Derma Strix-SPF™, a new ingredient from Meta Labs based on peptide technology, utilizes a poly-peptides concept to combat aging and smooth out wrinkles.

Wrinkles are the "wounds of time" that result from various internal and external factors that impair the quality of the epidermis and dermis. In vitro studies show that the poly-peptides concept in Derma Strix-SPF™ helps attract cells to sites that need repair and contributes to the reconstruction of the dermis. Poly-peptides concept strengthens and repairs the skin's barrier. It improves cell cohesion, enhancing water retention and reducing skin dryness.

Clinical Study:

Pigmented products tend to accentuate the appearance of wrinkles and skin dryness rather than mask them. That's why we used a foundation to evaluate the anti-wrinkling efficacy of Derma Strix-SPF™ after only applying it once a day, for 56 days the results were dramatic.
